Our Core Expertise

We excel in the planning, design and implementation of voice and data networks, video surveillance and access control. These networks must support an array of equipment and systems critical to the enterprise—in both a wired and wireless environment. PCS is proficient in handling small, medium and large scale projects for customers locally, regionally and nationally.

"As a start-up, we needed a partner to help us with our cabling, access control and video surveillance needs. We selected PCS based on a referral from a trusted friend and PCS has proven to be an excellent partner. They helped us through the selection and design process and did a great job cabling our new headquarters. I'm very pleased and plan to use PCS for future projects and locations."
